$210/MONTH!

Having a Silicon Valley identity will give you a competitive edge when dealing with US technology companies. Agency Representation is the ideal solution for companies which need permanent US representation but cannot justify the high cost associated with operating a local subsidiary. A typical user of this product is a company that has established its initial contacts in the territory and now intends to elevate its business to a new level by becoming a part of the unique Silicon Valley system.

Agency Representation offers use of your business name, a physical address with executive meeting rooms, a dedicated phone number with a local receptionist and an experienced local representative to deal with your mail and respond to initial phone inquiries, for a total cost of 210 USD per month.

Advantages and Benefits:

- US legal presence under your own company name
- No need to deal with local legal business requirements such as filing for taxes and maintenance of a local business account
- No operational costs related to accommodation, medical insurance, car insurance and travel expenses of your employees in US
- The most cost efficient way of becoming a Silicon Valley company
- Limited liability in the US

The package includes:

- ☑ Business name presented at a prestigious Silicon Valley address
- ☑ Mailing address and mail collection
- ☑ Dedicated company phone and fax number (solid line)
- ☑ Native English speaking phone receptionists service answering all in-coming phone calls in your company name during US working hours;
- ☑ Call forwarding;
- ☑ Experienced local representative responding to all in-coming initial enquiries and mail according to your instructions;
- ☑ Four hours of prepaid meeting rooms each month.
